COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course provides a conceptual and practical introduction to creating and using media resources to support learning in library and other information settings. Coursework regularly includes media analysis and media production activities that: 1) incorporate digital image, sound, and video elements; 2) utilize web-based tools; and 3) apply knowledge of copyright and digital media.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

At the end of the course, the student will be able to:

1. Carry out appropriate steps in planning, designing, and producing informative and creative digital media projects.
2. Identify and utilize web-based tools and resources to collaborate with classmates and to find and share information about media production.
3. Apply knowledge of fair use, copyright, and copyleft issues in:
a. Searching for and identifying media assets that can be used in media projects
b. Appropriately using and attributing copyrighted material in media projects
c. Determining an appropriate copyright license for self-authored media projects.
4. Demonstrate ability to problem-solve technical challenges and to provide technical support related to media production.
5. Demonstrate ability to select media and technology appropriate to project goals and users.
6. Demonstrate ability to discuss and explore current research, concepts, and trends related to use of media production and technology in information professions.

COURSE MATERIALS:

Required Texts:

- Carol Simpson / Copyright for Schools: A Practical Guide; 5th edition / 2010/ Linworth Publishing / ISBN-13: 978-1586833930

Other Reading Materials:

- Additional readings will be assigned most weeks, all available online.
- Several weeks will also include media to review or analyze, all available online.
- Students often benefit from supplemental media production materials, such as software manuals, online tutorials, and other help resources. Students are expected to be proactive in identifying additional resources needed to help them learn the material.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS AND EVALUATION:

Instructions and grading criteria will be provided before work on an assignment begins.

1. Media Labs: Complete lab exercises to develop multimedia authoring skills (e.g. blogging, audio and video editing, creating a prez).
2. Peer Feedback on Media: Provide feedback to classmates on media production assignments (e.g. media labs, digital story projects).
3. Copyright Scenarios. Analyze common scenarios that use copyrighted material to determine if the use is a violation of copyright or an example of “fair use.”
4. Peer Support Discussion Board: Use the Peer Support DB to request technical help, offer assistance, and post media production tips throughout the semester. A minimum number of helpful posts is required (2 for wks 1-5; 2 for wks 6-9; and 2 for wks 10-16).
5. Digital Story Final Project: Create a short video or multimedia project that tells a compelling story, incorporating creative writing, imagery (e.g. still images and/or video), audio (e.g. voice over, music, sound effects). The project includes a variety of preproduction activities (e.g. project pitches and treatments) to develop ideas and facilitate peer feedback. Topics must receive instructor approval.

STUDENT ELIGIBILITY FOR AN INCOMPLETE GRADE:

Incomplete (“I”) grades will not be assigned, except in the case of exceptional unforeseen circumstances that occur within the last three weeks of the semester and your work has otherwise been satisfactory (C average).

University Attendance Policy:

Excused absences include documented illness, deaths in the family and other documented crises, call to active military duty or jury duty, religious holy days, and official University activities. These absences will be accommodated in a way that does not arbitrarily penalize students who have a valid excuse. Consideration will also be given to students whose dependent children experience serious illness.

Academic Honor Policy:

The Florida State University Academic Honor Policy outlines the University’s expectations for the integrity of students’ academic work, the procedures for resolving alleged violations of those expectations, and the rights and responsibilities of students and faculty members throughout the process. Students are responsible for reading the Academic Honor Policy and for living up to their pledge to “. . . be honest and truthful and . . . [to] strive for personal and institutional integrity at Florida State University.” (Florida State University Academic Honor Policy, found at <http://fda.fsu.edu/Academics/Academic-Honor-Policy>.)

Americans With Disabilities Act:

Students with disabilities needing academic accommodation should:

- (1) register with and provide documentation to the Student Disability Resource Center; and
- (2) bring a letter to the instructor indicating the need for accommodation and what type. This should be done during the first week of class.

This syllabus and other class materials are available in alternative format upon request.
