COURSE DESCRIPTION:
A study of the materials (books, magazines, video & film formats, audio, television, computer software, CD-ROMS, Internet resources, etc.) created for children, ages birth to twelve, with an emphasis on the process of evaluation in order to meet their educational, cultural, and recreational needs.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:
Goal for Course:
To become acquainted with a wide range of materials for children to meet their educational, cultural, emotional, and recreational needs, and with techniques for their use.

Objectives:
At the end of the course, the student will be able to:

1. Understand the relationship between children's needs and interests, at various levels.
2. Develop general criteria for evaluating and selecting books and materials for children, and to apply such criteria to a wide range of books and materials, including electronic formats.
3. Describe the various genres in Literature for children, including characteristics, special criteria, representative titles, and major authors in each by reading widely and critically.
4. Identify outstanding authors and illustrators for children and with their work, and to develop an understanding of their aims and methods.
5. Recognize the role of the adult in relation to children and their materials, and to learn techniques for introducing children to literature and for evaluating and encouraging their response to books and materials.
6. Research current issues and trends in the field of literature and materials for children.
7. Survey the history of children's literature, and contemporary literature for children.
8. Identify major professional publications and sources of information that can help the adult who is using books and materials with children.
9. Develop in students a permanent interest in the field, so that they will continue to explore new books and materials for children, and will keep in touch with new developments in the field.
10. Familiarize themselves with a variety of online resources for children’s materials, including online discussion groups, electronic Magazines, online books, and gopher and World Wide Web sites for accessing current information about awards, authors, illustrators, as well as lesson plans and bibliographies.
11. Articulate the issues surrounding the representation of the different cultural groups in the United States in materials meant for children and how to evaluate, select, and employ multicultural materials when designing information programs and services.

COURSE MATERIALS:

Required Textbooks
Textbooks as assigned.

Other Required Reading
In addition to assigned textbook readings, you will be reading many of children’s books of different types and genres and keeping a journal on your reading each week. You will also read selected articles and other pertinent materials that will be chosen by the instructor and identified in the course calendar as required readings.

In addition, students are required to identify books and other materials for children that reflect their own research interests in order to complete several assignments in this course.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS AND EVALUATION:

Participation: Includes attendance and participation in class as a whole as well as a member of a small discussion group. All students are expected to take turns being the reporter in small group discussions. Reporters are responsible for keeping the discussion on track, reporting for the group in class, and posting group work to the Small Group discussion board.

Reading Journals: Students will use the journal format to keep track of their reactions to course assigned children’s books. Journal entries will include a full citation for the work and a short reaction to a writing prompt provided on the course site.

Reviews: Students will write two (300 word) book reviews. One of a children's picture book and one of a work of fiction for children ages 9-12.

Writing Assignment: Students will choose one of two topics related to course content on which to write a five page paper.
Multicultural Paper: Students will choose between three options on which to write a five page paper on multicultural issues in children’s literature.

Subject Bibliography: Students will develop a fifteen page, selective annotated bibliography of twenty works in an area of interest of their choice.

GRADE CALCULATION
Each assignment is worth the following set amount of points. Your final grade will be based on how many points (out of 1000 possible) you earn over the course of the semester.

Student Eligibility for an Incomplete Grade:

Incomplete (“I”) grades will not be assigned, except in the case of exceptional unforeseen circumstances that occur within the last three weeks of the semester and your work has otherwise been satisfactory (C average).

University Attendance Policy:

Excused absences include documented illness, deaths in the family and other documented crises, call to active military duty or jury duty, religious holy days, and official University activities. These absences will be accommodated in a way that does not arbitrarily penalize students who have a valid excuse. Consideration will also be given to students whose dependent children experience serious illness.
Academic Honor Policy:
The Florida State University Academic Honor Policy outlines the University’s expectations for the integrity of students’ academic work, the procedures for resolving alleged violations of those expectations, and the rights and responsibilities of students and faculty members throughout the process. Students are responsible for reading the Academic Honor Policy and for living up to their pledge to “. . . be honest and truthful and . . . [to] strive for personal and institutional integrity at Florida State University.” (Florida State University Academic Honor Policy, found at http://fda.fsu.edu/Academics/Academic-Honor-Policy.)

Americans With Disabilities Act:
Students with disabilities needing academic accommodation should:
(1) register with and provide documentation to the Student Disability Resource Center; and
(2) bring a letter to the instructor indicating the need for accommodation and what type. This should be done during the first week of class.
This syllabus and other class materials are available in alternative format upon request.
