COURSE DESCRIPTION:
Given the increasing diversity in our society, information professionals need to develop the competencies required to work for, and with, multicultural and diverse groups. This course examines basic concepts, multicultural competencies, and recommendations from professional resources to work with cultural groups. It explores knowledge, skills, abilities and attributes of cultural competence in general. It also explores competence expectations in organizations at the management, and consumer service levels. The course concludes with recommendations and considerations for engaging people from diverse groups. Please note that this course is not centered in any one specific information agency. Rather, it is focused on cultural competencies in general.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:
At the end of the course, the student will be able to:

- Interpret the current multicultural, ethnical and diversity terminology, and distinguish specific concepts from one another, i.e., enculturation, acculturation, cultural diversity, ethnocentrism, and multiculturalism.
- Identify diverse, multicultural and special groups, and general characteristics of each based on origin, language, communication and cultural traits among others.
- Identify cultural barriers to communication and customer services for specific groups, and describe how those barriers might be overcome.
- Describe cultural dimensions, cultural factors, and how they could affect effective information services.
- Describe cultural competence knowledge, skills, abilities and attributes, and employ these to strategies for effective information services.
- Identify best multicultural practices for effective customer service.
- Identify best multicultural practices for effective management.
- Identify and apply strategies for effective cultural communication.
- List and apply recommendations to serve diverse groups.
COURSE MATERIALS:
Readings as assigned and posted to the course website.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS AND EVALUATION:
- Three Journals
  - Reflect on concepts, issues and strategies from readings and learning activities. Capture your reflections on a journal. Journals are due electronically on weeks 4, 8 and 12.
- Cultural Compass
  - Take the cultural compass test and submit a report of the results.
- Assessment
  - Week 4. Online assessment of concepts from Week 1 – 4. This assessment is semi-formal and “open text book” is allowed.
- Course Project: Effective cultural competencies for a target group (Paper and presentation)
  - Sign-in required to a topic group. Compile and organize information on issues, challenges and strategies for effective multicultural communication with a specific population. Write a 12-page, double-spaced (12-size font) with your findings and recommendations. A 30-minute presentation should summarize your project.
- Peer evaluation
  - Students will evaluate the participation and collaboration of their peers within the group.
- Attendance
  - Most of the course is module-based and students should be able to adapt the content of the course to their schedules. There are also six live online meetings (synchronously, via Collaborate). Attendance is mandatory to those online meetings.

UNIVERSITY ATTENDANCE POLICY:
Excused absences include documented illness, deaths in the family and other documented crises, call to active military duty or jury duty, religious holy days, and official University activities. These absences will be accommodated in a way that does not arbitrarily penalize students who have a valid excuse. Consideration will also be given to students whose dependent children experience serious illness.

ACADEMIC HONOR POLICY:
The Florida State University Academic Honor Policy outlines the University’s expectations for the integrity of students’ academic work, the procedures for resolving alleged violations of those expectations, and the rights and responsibilities of students and faculty members throughout the process. Students are responsible for reading the Academic Honor Policy and for living up to their pledge to “. . . be honest and truthful and . . . [to] strive for personal and institutional integrity at Florida State University.” (Florida State University Academic Honor Policy, found at http://fda.fsu.edu/Academics/Academic-Honor-Policy.)

ADA STATEMENT:
Students with disabilities needing academic accommodation should:
(1) register with and provide documentation to the Student Disability Resource Center; and
(2) bring a letter to the instructor indicating the need for accommodation and what type. This should be done during the first week of class.

This syllabus and other class materials are available in alternative format upon request. For more information about services available to FSU students with disabilities, contact the:
